PROVIDER - FATHER

The months of May and June are the months we celebrate our mothers and our fathers. It's our effort to show our appreciation and our honor for what they have invested in our lives. If nothing else, the fact that they gave us life.

Not every mother or father have lived their lives in an honorable way. The damage they brought to the lives of their families is sometimes more obvious than the good they might have done for their families. We live in a day when families are not accomplishing what God created them to accomplish. Because of this, there is confusion in the street, in our churches and our government. We are living like people who have been raised in the jungles, without education or understanding. We have education on every corner, but our education is not making us act with wisdom. Our country has departed from the God who has blessed us and given us all our benefits. Why do we have violence in the streets? Why would a policeman do harm to a victim he is paid to protect? Why would a pastor preach the truth and then violate that truth in his daily life? We have the Word of God in our hands but not in our hearts or our lives. Because of this, our families are broken, and just like Eve, instead of being "Help Meets" to one another, we are "helping to destroy" one another.

PROVIDER - FATHER

The family was designed to represent the image of the godhead. The godhead is our example of what God created us to be in our families. The father represents the Heavenly Father. The father is the PROVIDER of the family. This does not mean that the women cannot provide for the family. It means that God holds the father responsible for the provisions. The virtuous woman in Proverbs 31 is a very productive woman and causes the husband's goods to increase. While her work produces increase, God never intended her to bear the burden of the necessary provisions. Both husband and wife are to work toward the building of the home. Both positions should bring growth and increase.

A wrong perspective concerning money is often the reason for a broken home. The LOVE of money is the root of all evil (destruction). When a man takes a wife and she takes his name, she becomes a JOINT heir. What's his is hers and what's hers is his! They are ONE! The Word (Jesus) has access to all the Father has! The Father is in charge of the distribution, but it belongs to both. Many husbands will not release ownership of their money when it comes to marriage. Many women will not release ownership of their money and the two never work as one. When both husband and wife are working outside of the home there is often a contest between who is the best supporter and then feeling they have more rights if they contribute more money. You cannot work as one authority when everything is judged by who supplies the most money.

The greatest thing that ever happened to our marriage was when we sought how to handle our money in a way that would bring glory to God. Some husbands are excellent at handling money. They have a right attitude about it, they give God what is rightfully His, they pay their bills on time and they do not use it to manipulate their wife and children. Others struggle with needs that would keep them from being a good provider. No one can tell you how you are to handle your finances. There is not a right or wrong way, but there are right and wrong principles concerning the way you respond and spend your money. Too often we attempt to set down rules and regulations as to how every one should handle their money. My wife went to a seminar some years ago and the woman teacher said a wife should never write a check. She said that only the man should handle the finances. Many women went home thinking that if they helped their husbands with the finances they wouldn't be submissive wives. I happen to be a man who needs a secretary. My wife does my office work when it comes to money. I am the responsible party and she carries out my orders. I get wrapped up in the daily work and often forget about what day it is and when it is that the bills come due. For years I also had an expense account that I handled and it was helpful to me to have my wife take care of the home finances. All that I have is ours and it's to her advantage to do a good job as my secretary. When we come up short with the finances she will say, "You have a problem!" I bear the burden; she does the paper work. If you see you need help, don't have so much pride that you can't ask for help. Just remember, do not put the burden of finances on your wife. One of the greatest tests to knowing if you have a right attitude about money is how you give God what is rightfully his. Until you tithe with a cheerful heart, money is too important to you. God designed the man to provide for the home. There are many needs of a home and not all of those needs are money.

The father is also the husband or husbandry. He plants the seed and then it is his responsibility to tend to the plant. He is to till the soil, to water and prune and take care of the cleaning of the plant. He is the saviour of the body. (Eph. 5:23) That means, he is the deliverer of the body. He is to protect.

If you are going to protect someone, you are going to have to pay attention to their needs. Most men do not even know what their wife's needs are. You would have to be close in heart to be able to do this properly. Have you ever passed by a yard and just been amazed at how neat and clean kept it looks? What about the yard where it looks like they only do what is necessary to keep the city from giving them a citation. A lot of husbands only do what they can get away with. They don't realize that the life of the woman is a reflection of the man. They are ONE. What kind of a reputation does your family have. Are they a picture of chaos or organization? Happy or murmurers? Enjoying the journey or just putting up with life?

You may be a great provider, but the most important thing a father should do is to LOVE his family. Love never fails! You might say, "You don't understand; my wife is not a lovable person." If your wife has a problem being lovable, it doesn't excuse you for being unlovable. Anyone can love the lovely. A husband is to love his wife as Christ loved the church. Christ died for the church when we were yet sinners!!! He took the first step. He was our example. In most marriages today the father and mother simply put up with one another. Few children are raised in a home of LOVE.

Take a good look at your home. Does LOVE live inside your home? What kind of relationship do you and your wife have? You may fulfill all your responsibilities with your hands, but do you fulfill your responsibilities with your heart? How does she feel about your love for her? Have you convinced her that her life is as important to you as yours is? Have you found balance between serving and ruling your house? Do you know how to be gentle and strong at the same time? Is your leadership anything like God's leadership to us? You were created to exhibit the image of God to your wife and children.

Does your family see you as a person who keeps his word? One of the best ways to show God in your life is to be a man of your word. God never breaks His Word to us. We will fail, but when we fail, do we quickly make it right with our family? One of the joys about serving our God is knowing that what He says He will do.

There is nothing as great as a great father. A great father is a father who concerns himself with the needs of his family. Being poor is not bad, but being poor and no one cares that you are poor is bad. You may only have a dollar, but if your family knows that you are working at it and that their needs matter to you, your family will feel secure with that dollar. It's not the amount of provisions that matter to a family. It is the heart of the one providing that makes the difference.

This Father's Day, more than likely, your children will honor you for being their father. Will you take a look as to what kind of a father you have been and commit yourself to allowing God to make you a great father so you can bring glory to God your Father?

My father left home before I was born. I never got to see the greatness that he could have been to us children, because his life was more important to him than our lives were. I'm sorry he missed a lot of wonderful years we could have had together as a family. I'm thankful for the life he gave me, but I wish I could have seen him as a father to us kids. I have the privilege of being the father to three sons and four foster daughters. May God help me to encourage and to bless their lives.

PRODUCT - Children

Children are the product of a man and a woman coming together to build a home. Children were only intended to be brought into a marriage. Children outside of marriage come from sex outside of God's created purpose for sex. Any sex outside of marriage is SIN! Heb. 13:4 Marriage is honourable in all and the bed undefiled: but whoremongers and adulterers God will judge. We certainly allow a lot of sinful living today and never call it what it is because we don't want to offend anyone! That's kind of like seeing a house on fire and not warning the people inside because we don't want to scare them!

God is here to give us a way to overcome sin should we start wrong. The Old Testament says that if a couple is taken up in the heat of the moment and violate one another, if they marry they have not sinned, but if they do not make it right it is sin. God knew that people would fail, but He always provides a way to make it right. Today a great number of children have no idea who their father or mother is! Thank God for people who adopt children in need of parents. Many children today and in the Bible were not raised with their real parents. You do not have to be raised by the real ones in order to have a great relationship with an acting father and mother. Parents are the greatest need of a child and when they are deprived of these, Satan sees them as unprotected and he works at causing them to be discouraged and hopeless. BUT, the Scripture says, "When my father and my mother forsake me, then the Lord will take me up." (Ps 27:10) No one has to be left alone. God will always be there.

In Genesis 1 God said that man was to multiply and replenish the earth. This is the purpose of the creation of man. He also is to have dominion over God's creation. Children are the products of our homes! Satan works overtime attempting to destroy any potential for bringing children into the world. I heard this week that there have been over 55 million abortions in the United States at this time. We have killed a generation. Maybe one of those children were designed to be our deliver. Maybe one of them would have turned our country back to God. I wonder how many potential men of God we have destroyed. If that was not bad enough, Satan has many other methods of robbing the womb. Satan's whole motive for approaching Eve and not Adam was the fact he was trying to kill the womb. Had Eve died childless, Adam could never have fulfilled God's command to reproduce. Years ago, American families bought into the concept of planning what size a family they wanted. When we married we were often asked, "How many children do you want?" We stopped asking God how many children did He want. We began to manipulate our families. Many times we are quick to have surgeries that prevent birthing simply for convenience. How do we see children today? What do they mean to our lives? Are they just play things like our animals are? Just something to have fun with. Do we see them as a benefit or a liability? Do we just commit 18 years to them and then say you are on your own, or do we always see them as an extension of our lives?

God created us in His image and we are to produce children in our image. Not to just look like us, but to believe as we do. If I really believe what I say I believe, wouldn't I want my children to believe the same? Oh we say, but they are grown and they can do as they please. True, but there are powers all around them attempting to persuade them to follow their ways. Why can't we work at persuading our children to follow what we believe. True, I can't make my children live my life, but I can make them want to by the way I live before them. It should be my goal to do my best to lead my children in the way of life.

Ps 127:3-5
Lo, children are an heritage of the Lord: and the fruit of the womb is his reward.

As arrows are in the hand of a mighty man; so are children of the youth.

Happy is the man that hath his quiver full of them: they shall not be ashamed, but they shall speak with the enemies in the gate.

When Satan is successful at stopping a birth, he is robbing us of our reward from God. If he has found a way of turning your heart away from birthing children, he has taken away from God and you.

Now, if you desire children and God has withheld them from your life, then God has another use of your life that is of great value to Him. You don't have to birth children to love children! You don't have to birth children to be happy and fulfilled. Life is found in Christ and not in children. Children are opportunities to show the greatness of God by the way we raise them. When we raise godly children, it glorifies God and it blesses our lives. My children are the joy of my life today. Being old is not always easy, but my children hold me up and stand with me as encouragers for these days. This week has been a hard week and our sons have counseled both me and my wife. It is wonderful to have children who can counsel you and help you in your time of need.

If you are blessed with children that are still at home, use this time to make a difference in their lives and yours. Do not let them overcome you, but you take the lead and lead them into principles that will bring life to them.

Remember, the father is the PROVIDER, the mother is the PRODUCER, and the children are the PRODUCTS! There is no work greater than the work of the family.

INSPIRATIONS

PRODUCER - MOTHER

Well, the first article is about the father, the provider of the family. Now let's take a look at the mother, the producer of the family.

It took me years to see the value of the mother's position in the family. All that is ever talked about is birthing children, cleaning house and serving her husband's needs. Those are domestic works and they are only the outward actions of a mother. A mother has the opportunity to change the world! The way we teach our children and the way we encourage our husbands creates the world we live in. Do you like the world you live in? Do something about it. Make a difference!

The woman's position in the family is the same that Jesus (The Word) is in the godhead. The Word humbled himself and became like us so he could show us how to live. He sacrificed himself so we could be with the Father, as He was. Wow! He really loved us, did He not? What kind of love do we exhibit as wives and mothers? If we fail as wives and mothers, it is because we would not humble ourselves as Christ did. We're not going to be under someone we are equal to! That is beneath us! Our pride destroys us. How do we feel toward Christ for what He did for us? His name is above all names. We see what He did for us as the greatest thing a person could do. Then why do we feel that what God asks us to do is degrading. It is every bit as great as what Christ was doing for us. We all live because of what Christ did and if you want your family to live, you must do your life like Christ did.

Jesus is the producer of the godhead. Jesus said in Him was life. The woman was created with life (milk) in her so she could give life to her children. We do the birthing, we do the nourishing and we do the weaning of the child. The weaning is teaching them how to control themselves. How to walk, how to talk, how to feed themselves, how to control their tempters, how to respond to others, etc. A mother prepares a child for life. Why are the children rioting in the streets today? Because they were "left to themselves" when it came to character. Mother either didn't care, or she was off to work and they were left to baby-sitters who didn't feel it was their responsibility. When I see an out of control anger on the road I always wonder, "Did their mother or father not teach them to have self control?" My father would spank me and then say, "You can cry, but cry softly." I was not allowed to throw a fit. I could speak what I thought as long as I spoke with respect. Self control is the secret to a successful life. I see adults every day who still have no self control in their lives and they are destroying everything they touch.

A mother, who is controlling her life, and not her life controlling her, can be a mother who makes a difference in her generation.

A mother should teach her children to live by the ten commandments. How does she teach them? By obeying the ten commandments. A mother should teach her children to have right attitudes. How does she teach this? By making sure she has a right attitude about all things. A mother should teach her children how to love. How does she do this? By the way she responds to their needs and by the way she responds to their father's needs. Also, by how she treats her friends. As the singer, Bro. Johnny Flannagan would say, "Your talk talks and your walk talks, but your walk talks louder than you talk talks." A personal example will encourage the world around you to do that which is right.

Proverbs 31:10 says, "Who can find a virtuous woman? for her price is far above rubies." A woman of virtue is of great value to her husband and her

CONNOR

On May the 14th Bro. Larry and Judy Connor celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary. The Connors came into our lives in the mid 90's. I had just taken my first pastorate. The Connors had left the work force and had taken on the mission of printing tracts for ministries free of charge. They had some support, but as usual, it wasn't a great amount. The church in Harlingen was just getting on its feet and couldn't pay much. Both we and the Connors prayed down a lot of needs together in those days.

Our ministry consisted of caring for missionaries that were going in and coming out of Mexico. We didn't know about this ministry when we took the church, but we soon found out. We housed and fed over 250 missionaries from August to December. Bro. Larry and Mrs. Judy worked with us to accomplish this. We both used all we had to feed them. There were many Sundays Mrs. Judy and Gloria fed from 15 to 20 people.

The Connors were always faithful workers. Anything God called them to do, they just tore into it and did it to the best of their ability. Bro. Larry is a very good carpenter and has built many things for the cause of Christ. Mrs. Judy has the gift of serving and has cooked many meals for God's people.

It was in Harlingen that the Connors met Mrs. Rose, Bro. David and Connie Cimino. It was not many years after Bro. Dick went to be with the Lord. Bro. Larry began doing the printing that Bro. Dick had done for many years. This helped Bro. David to keep the work going. Later Bro. David went to be with the Lord and not long after Mrs. Rose also went to be with the Lord. Mrs. Connie never dreamed that one day the work would be left to her. She had always taken care of the Ciminis and David while they did the work, but now if it was to last, she would need to do it. Mrs. Connie asked me to take the President's position so the work could have a man in charge. I prayed about it and God said do it. This put all of us in the same work, although we each had our own work to do.

Later God called me to Cedar Hill, Texas, to pastor the Galilean Baptist Church. Before long, God called the Connors to come work along side of us again. This time we have worked 16 years together. It has been a total of some 20 years.

The Connors were not saved until they had raised their children. They have always wished they had known the Lord and could have raised their children in a God fearing home. The life they live today is 100% turn around from their earlier days. They exhibit the person of Christ in their every day lives and we honor them for their life's work together at this time of their 50th wedding anniversary. Wonderful Word would not be able to go forward today if it weren't for their willingness to print our tracts. We say, "Thank you Bro. Larry and Mrs. Judy for your service to this ministry and to the cause of Christ."

PRODUCER - MOTHER

family. She is more valuable than the stock market! She takes the provisions that her husbands gives her and makes them to grow into great provisions. Proverbs says that the man who has this woman for his wife will have no need of "spoil". Spoil is what the men took when they were in battle. They could take whatever a person owned if they conquered him in war, but the virtuous woman's husband had no need for spoil, because she had done such a good job of taking care of his provisions. He didn't have to take that second and third job to make ends meet.

You might check yourself out and see if what you are doing is benefiting the family. It costs to go to work. You must have a second car, extra insurance, baby-sitting money, clothes to wear to work and eat out when you are too tired to cook. You might be more productive at home. Whatever or however God says for you to accomplish your responsibilities, remember, your heart is to be in your home. That's where your life is. When you take care of home, then you are free to pursue other things, "as unto the Lord" of course.

The home was intended to be the place of power. It is supposed to be like a battery charger. It is to charger us with what we need to meet the day, whatever it brings. Home is where we learn to live by conviction and principles. If your home has never laid the foundation of these two things then you and the children are left to the wind and you will go wherever the wind blows. A father needs to be put on the spot and have to make his will known to his wife. How else can she do his will? I fear too many homes are the way we started our home years ago. I remember looking out on the school yard and seeing Jerry and thinking to myself that he would do perfectly as my husband. He was what I wanted. I never considered if I were what he needed. It was all about my life; not his! How wrong for a woman to start out. There were many things about our lives that just did not fit together. We are as different as day light and dark. We didn't have the wisdom to check these things out, we just knew that we liked each other and had a great time together. After marriage we realized we were worlds apart on how to live life. We did have some character qualities that saved us. We both believed that we were to keep our word at any cost. Faithfulness was a top priority for both of us. Neither one of us enjoyed hurting the other person. When we did injure each other, we would apologize and make up, even if we still did not agree with one another.

Years (10 years) after we married God taught me my place in our marriage and I began seeking to know Jerry's will for our lives. I sought to accomplish his will to the best of my ability. Because of this, our children have a right respect and love for our positions in their lives. They love their mother and father, because we loved each other in front of them. There was no friction in the house about who had the right of way and who didn't. We all knew our place and respected our place. We all had respect for the other person's place also. If you have never done this at your house, you have no idea what peace you are missing. Now, do we still disagree? Do we still get hot headed? Do we still fight against taking vengeance against each other? Oh my, yes! But, if you have self-control and live by Bible principles you will keep yourself from destruction of self and and the other person. You will learn that all problems can be solved without destroying one another.

I love being a wife and a mother. I have not always used my place to the best of my ability and I wish I had died more to self and lived more for my family, but when I have lived what I believe it has worked miracles for me and my household.

Mother, do you live happy? If not, your family is living in misery. It is so hard to live around an unhappy person, especially an unhappy mother. You may ask, "What have I to be happy about?" If you are a Christian you can rejoice in the fact that your sins are forgiven and that God has given you life and an opportunity to do something with your life that will show the greatness of God. Forget about yourself! God knows where you are and He is busy with the things you need. Just think about God and what you can do for Him today, and you will find that God is going to take care of you in His time and His Way!!!

GEORGE MULLER'S Advise to Preachers

That which I now considered the best mode of preparation for the public ministry of the Word, from deep conviction, and from the experience of God's blessing upon it, is as follows: I ask the Lord that He would graciously be pleased to teach me on what subject I shall speak, or what portion of His Word I shall expound. Sometimes it happens that a subject, or a passage, has been in my mind; in that case I ask Him whether I should speak on it. If after prayer I feel persuaded that I should, I fix upon it, yet so that I would desire to leave myself open to the Lord to change it, if He please. Frequently, however, it occurs that I have no text or subject in my mind before I give myself to prayer. In this case I wait some time for an answer, trying to listen to the voice of the Spirit to direct me. If then a passage or subject, I again ask Him, and that sometimes repeatedly, whether it be His will I should speak on it. Frequently it happens that I not only have no text or subject, but also do not obtain one after once or twice, or more times, praying about it. What I do is to go on with my regular reading of the Scriptures, praying whilst I read, for a text. I have even had to go to the place of meeting without a text, and obtained it perhaps only a few minutes before I was going to speak; but I have never lacked the Lord's assistance at the time of preaching, provided I had earnestly sought it in private.

Now when the text has been obtained, whether it be one or two or more verses, or a whole chapter, I ask the Lord that He would graciously be pleased to teach me by His Holy Spirit, whilst meditating over it. Within the last sixty-three years (1895) I have found it the most profitable plan to meditate with my pen in my hand, writing down the outlines, as the Word is opened to me. This I do for the sake of clearness, as being a help to see how far I understand the passage. I very seldom use any other help besides the little I understand of the original of the Scriptures, and some good translations in other languages. My chief help is prayer. I have never in my life begun to study one single part of divine truth without gaining some light about it, when I have been able really to give myself to prayer and meditation over it. This I most firmly believe, that no one ought to expect to see much good resulting from his labours if he is not much given to prayer and meditation.

Simplicity of expression, while the truth is set forth, is of the utmost importance. It should be the aim of the teacher so to speak, that children, servants, and people who cannot read may be able to understand him, so far as the natural mind can comprehend the things of God. It should also be considered, that if the preacher strive to speak according to the rules of this world, he may please many, particularly those who have a literary taste, but in the same proportion he is less likely to become an instrument in the hands of God for the conversion of sinners or for the building up of the saints. For neither eloquence nor depth of thought makes the truly great preacher, but

Have you notice that this year has been a hard year for getting the paper out? This month is for two months, May and June. We wanted a paper with all three of the family articles in it. Instead of emphasizing mother and father we wanted to emphasizing the family. Another reason is because it has been a difficult month for writing. Hopefully we will have some things to share with you about the hopes of growth for this work.

Our mailing costs have increased quite a lot in the last few years and our faithful monthly supporters have stayed just about the same. Some of our monthly supporters have had to drop out because of age and illness. God is still providing for the paper to go out but it is getting tighter. We would appreciate your prayers concerning the support. We have run into a lot of people lately who read our little paper and they tell us that the articles seem to be just what they need at the time they arrive. This blesses our hearts.

God has worked a work that will give us someone to help with the paper. Gloria's cousin will be living with us for about a year. She has worked in distribution for Accelerated Christian Education for the past 40 years. She retired this week and is going to help us in the office and with the mailing each month. It takes about 40 hours labor to insert, fold, tab and label the paper. Some months it works out that two or three people can help us and sometimes it is just Gloria and me. We really will appreciate Mrs. Linda Kissel's help. She has been a supporter of the paper for the last nine years and her heart is in the work already.

I suppose everyone has heard that we have had floods of water in our part of the country. While we are very wet, it is wonderful to see so many colors of green after having gone through a long, dry period here in Texas. We have more rain this month than we did all last year!

We did not mention it on page five, but Bro. Larry and Mrs. Judy have been really sick since January. Mrs. Judy's leg is having a difficult time healing and Bro. Larry had knee surgery last Tuesday and fell in the shower Sunday morning. He was taken to the hospital in an abundance. He also has a bad infection from the surgery. Please keep them in your prayers.

We were blessed to get a call from one of our supporters that we have wanted to know. The Hopes have faithfully supported this work from the very beginning and yet we did not know them. We have talked twice this month and it seems like we have known one another for years. It is amazing how the family of God becomes one in spirit. Keep reading your Bibles and pray everyday.
